MISSISSIPPI DIVISION

McGAVOCK CONFEDERATE CEMETERY PROJECT

FOLLOWING THE FOOTSTEPS OF CONFEDERATE WOMEN

The Mississippi Division wishes to honor the memory of Mississippians who fell in the service of the Confederacy at the Battle of Franklin and to protect and preserve this place made historic by their valor. Simply put, the mission is to follow in the footsteps of Confederate women who worked diligently to “take care of Confederate Graves” by sponsoring the placement of new granite stones in the McGavock Confederate Cemetery (Mississippi Section) in Franklin, TN for only $23.50 each.

Twelve sections in the cemetery hold the remains of 1,256 soldiers representing the Confederate states for which they fought, including 424 known Mississippians. In spite of efforts to restore the limestone headstones, age is taking its toll and many of the stones are no longer legible. The McGavock Confederate Cemetery Corporation Trustees is placing new 6 x 6 granite stones in front of the old limestone markers containing the same information as on the original markers.

A database listing known soldiers, units, and county is online at www.msudc.org. Please review the list and choose a soldier(s) to sponsor.
